"Mlle. Modiste." With Victor Herbert's charming Modiste" the New National Theater opens its limited opera season on Monday night. There is a chance that the composer may lead the orchestra for the opening performance, since e has taken a great interest in the production, the cast having been submitted to him and approved. Meade, who was understudy for Fritzi Scheff in the part, will have the title role, and Josephine Bartlett and Bertha Holly, who were also with the original production, have been engaged by the Aborns for the Washington engagement. Others in the carefully selected cast are Robinson Newbold, Leo Herbert White and George O'Donnell. Frank Beresford, formerly stage director for Mme. Scheff in this opera, will manage the stage, while the musical director will be Joseph E. Nichol. A carefully drilled chorus and elaborate stage settings and costumes will be features of the production. Sousa's "El Capitan" will be the attraction for the second week of the four-week season
